Abbeville, S. C., Apr. 25, 1906.

OUR DARLING BOY AND OUR FRIENDS.

Our hearts are filled with humble gratitude and fervent praise to Almighty God for His loving kindness and tender mercy toward us in thus sparing the life of our darling boy who on the 24th of March last, met with one of the most heart-rending accidents that it has ever been our sad duty to chronicle, having his left leg shot entirely off by a shot gun in the hands of his elder brother, who had just inserted the cartridge and as he went to reach the gun one of the plungers stuck, striking the cap and causing the accidental discharge with the above fearful result.

It was no careless handling of the gun or inadvertent act of his brother, as the gun, under similar conditions would have been discharged had it been in the hands of the best Nimrod in the country, therefore he should not be censured for he has already suffered enough to almost turn his brain.

The awful accident and the tender years of the child has awakened the most intense interest throughout the entire community and has touched the sympathetic chord of the heart of every parent who has a boy, for it might have been "thems" as well as "ours," hence the unbounded kindness, that has been lavished upon the little sufferer as well as upon ourselves in this sad hour of our trouble; words are inadequate to express the emotion of our hearts for the kindness extended to us by those in words and deeds, many gave us their sympathy, others came to us with words of cheer and comfort, while not a few ministers of our temporal and eternal life, but by all means, most were the many tokens of love, affection and sympathy sent in by the close relatives and many dear children in the country.

As in the city, we also kindly remember the assistance given us in time of need by a few colored friends.

The physicians and nurse were untiring in their attention and not only deserve, but have our sincere thanks.

May God's richest blessings rest upon every one who in any way ministered unto us, and may their hearts be made to know the sorrow and anguish through which we have just passed in our sincere prayer, God bless, and save the dear children from ever sharing such a fate as befell our dear boy.

Mr. S. S. Turner accompanied by his daughter Miss Executive left last Monday for New Orleans on a pleasure trip.

Mrs. P. B. Wells and children left last Saturday for a visit to homefolks in Greenville.

The many friends of Mrs. M. V. Chikensier who has undergone an operation in the hospital at Chester will be glad to learn that the operation was most successful and she is now getting on nicely.

Mrs. Claud Jones of Atlanta with her pretty little daughter Elizabeth, are in the city spending a while with her mother, Mrs. T. C. Keel.

Mrs. James Hill and children are visiting relatives in Chester.

Mrs. F. B. Gary and her handsome little son Frank expect to leave this week for a visit to her parents in Florence.

Hon. W. H. Aiken is bustling around in Congress espousing the cause of the R. F. D. Boys. His speech in their behalf was logical and brim full of good sound reasoning and words of wisdom that could not be getting by any one.

Just like the Colonel, always galloping himself for others. The carrier boys give him a lusty cheer and hope he will win the fight.

Mr. H. W. Lawson has been assisting the Auditor in his office for the past two or three weeks he is the right man in the right place as he fields a ready pen.

Rev. J. Lowrie Wilson will leave this week for Georgetown where he will assist the local minister of the Presbyterian Church in a protracted meeting.

Mrs. Gales Hammond and son of Greenwood spent several days of last week relatives in the city.

Abbeville's ball team played Due West team on their diamond last Friday. The game was interesting and hard fought, the score standing 5 to 6 in favor of Due West.

EUREKA'S MATINEES.

Assembled Guests are Daily Entertained in the Dining Room.

The Eureka is one of the best kept hotels in all this part of the world, and it is one Abbeville institution of which we have heard only words of praise. The success of this hotel proves that a good hotel is a safe and profitable enterprise, and all of Abbeville is proud of it. This, too, after some of our old mossbacks didn't encourage its building. Some of these old mossbacks, of whom we were chief, and to make up for former derelictions they lead the way in saying deserved good things of our best institution.

The structure itself is built after modern architecture, and every space in it is utilized for useful purposes. The whole is heated by steam in winter, and ice water, electric fans and big doors and windows keep it cool in summer. The bed rooms are large and airy, and the parlors are large and elegant, and the dining room, and its furnishings are fit for a king. Bill Williams is master of ceremonies here, and he stands up straighter than his illustrious namesake across the sea Emperor William. He bends and bows with the grace of a prince, and is more polite than Oberfeld. The cooks, B. A. Rook and Rob Jackson, furnishes him with the best of all that would please the sight or gratify the appetite. With an inexhaustible supply of the best things to gratify the craving of the department of the interior, a host of the politest waiters on earth—Jake Henderson, Ira Rogers, Gus Head—serve the guests so well that their sometimes have to be warned against forgetfulness. We cannot give the reader a taste of the inviting goods that are laid before guests, but we can give a PROGRAM OF EXERCISES

In which every guest is expected to take an enthusiastic part at the daily matinee.

While the program is about the same every day, yet it is a fact, that when extra good things appear on the market, or when more choice things from distant markets can be had, there may be a slight change, but it is daily substantially the same. If you had to eat through all this, it would be a waste of time, skip a little? But you can take the whole, if you like:

Soup.

X. TOXIC.

Spanish Mackerel with Creol Sauce.

Baked Quicker with Dressing.

Barbecued Mutton.

ENTREE.

Poonee D. Lemon Jelly with Green Sauce.

Cauliflower with Potatoes.

Sherry Cobbler.

VEGETABLES.

Macaroni with Cheese.

Snap Beans.

Carolina Sweet Pickles.

Creamed Corn.

Applesauce with Cream.

Moring Red Onions.

5 Ring Lettuce with Mynonaire Dressing.

Stewed Tomatoes.

Green De Voltaine.

English Muffins.

DESSERT.

Fruit Pies.

Fancy Cake.

Sherry Ice Cream.

COFFEE.

Milk.

Tea.

Mixed Nuts.

Raisins.

Cheese and Crackers.

And a program of this account for the number of transient guests on Sunday, including numbers of gentlemen and ladies from the city.

Mr. W. H. McFall and Mr. Achille Bassard are office men, and more efficient or more polite men than they are cannot be found.

After all, Mrs. McFall is the power behind the throne. Her matchless energy and her great sagacity, to which have been added years of experience, enable her to be an easy winner in a contest for excellent management of a hotel. She inherits tact for the business, and her experience places her easily in the front rank of first class hotel keepers.

You can buy $1.25 mercerized undershirts for 90c, next Monday.
